

EMPOWERING STUDENTS THROUGH MENTORSHIP, SERVICE, LIFE SKILLS, AND COMMUNITY CONNECTION

Why Youth Mentoring?

The Youth Mentoring Program (YMP) of World Relief Triad exists to empower students to identify and resolve obstacles to thriving in their environments such as: school, work place, family, and community. We do this by creating spaces that will cultivate mentoring relationships between refugee and immigrant youth and volunteers. In these creative spaces, we will be teaching and modeling interpersonal skills, promoting and practicing disciplines that lead to emotional and physical health, equipping students with better study habits and time management skills, and offering civic and social engagement opportunities in the Triad.

The YMP focuses on:

- Fostering an environment of emotional and physical health
- Training mentors to act as cultural guides for refugee and immigrant youth
- Finding experiential learning and service opportunities in the Triad
- Teaching and modeling interpersonal skills, time management disciplines, and study skills
- Building bridges for trusting relationships in youths' schools, work places, and families
